Netflix's ZERO DAY has Nikita playing the rogue GRU officer Alexi Lebedev who is suspected to have a hand in the major attack.

9-1-1

Nikita is the pirate leader BORIS who overtakes the cruise ship and causes mayhem in the exciting season seven 3-part premiere of ABC's 9-1-1.

HBO

BARRY

Mayrbek (NIKITA BOGOLYUBOV) is the star pupil of the Chechen army that Barry Berkman (BILL HADER) agrees to train to settle the debt with NoHo Hank (ANTHONY CARRIGAN) in season 2 of HBO's Barry.

Rotten
Tomatoes

100%

“The bloodbath at the warehouse started off without much emotion – Barry killing drug thugs was intense but not surprising. What did hurt was seeing the young Chechnyan man he trained, Mayrbek (Nikita Bogolyubov) – who he had given such purpose to, who worshipped him – post-up to kill him.”

COLLIDER

“At his feet, he sees the man he trained (Mayrbek); the man who thanked Barry for giving him purpose; the man who lowered his gun and smiled when Barry walked into the room; the man who Barry shot without a second thought but is now sending him reeling, back into the darkness.”

Los Angeles - THE SARATOV APPROACH premiere

Inspired by actual events, THE SARATOV APPROACH is the extraordinary, untold story of Elders Travis Tuttle and Andrew Propst and their week-long abduction in Saratov, Russia. On what seemed like any other day during their two-year LDS missions, Elders Travis Tuttle (Corbin Allred) and Andrew Propst (Maclain Nelson) are approached by Nikolai (Nikita Bogolyubov) to meet a friend. But then the missionaries experience the unimaginable -- kidnapped, beaten, and held for ransom for nearly a week. While their family, friends and the world pray for their safe return, Tuttle and Propst are tested physically, emotionally and most of all -- spiritually.

“Equal parts nerve-jangling thriller and faith-empowering drama.”

THE SALT LAKE TRIBUNE

“It is co-star Nikita Bogolyubov, however, who steals the show as Sergei's right-hand man, Nikolai. Bogolyubov has one scene in particular that takes the dramatic impact of this movie to a whole other level.”

THE INDEPENDENT

“The film's best surprise is the performance of Nikita Bogolyubov as the second kidnapper; his key scene towards the end carries a powerful emotional wallop.”

Jon Kortajarena

John (NIKITA BOGOLYUBOV) is a young man who spends his time locked in his room creating stories around a fictional character, Juanito (JON KORTAJARENA), his alter ego. The fear of the world beyond John's door crashes with his innate curiosity, but during his whole life fear and home comfort have always won the battle. John's safe and controlled world will be challenged when Juanito escapes from his drawings and sneaks into his room with the purpose of killing him.

AFI CONSERVATORY
THESIS SHOWCASE 2014

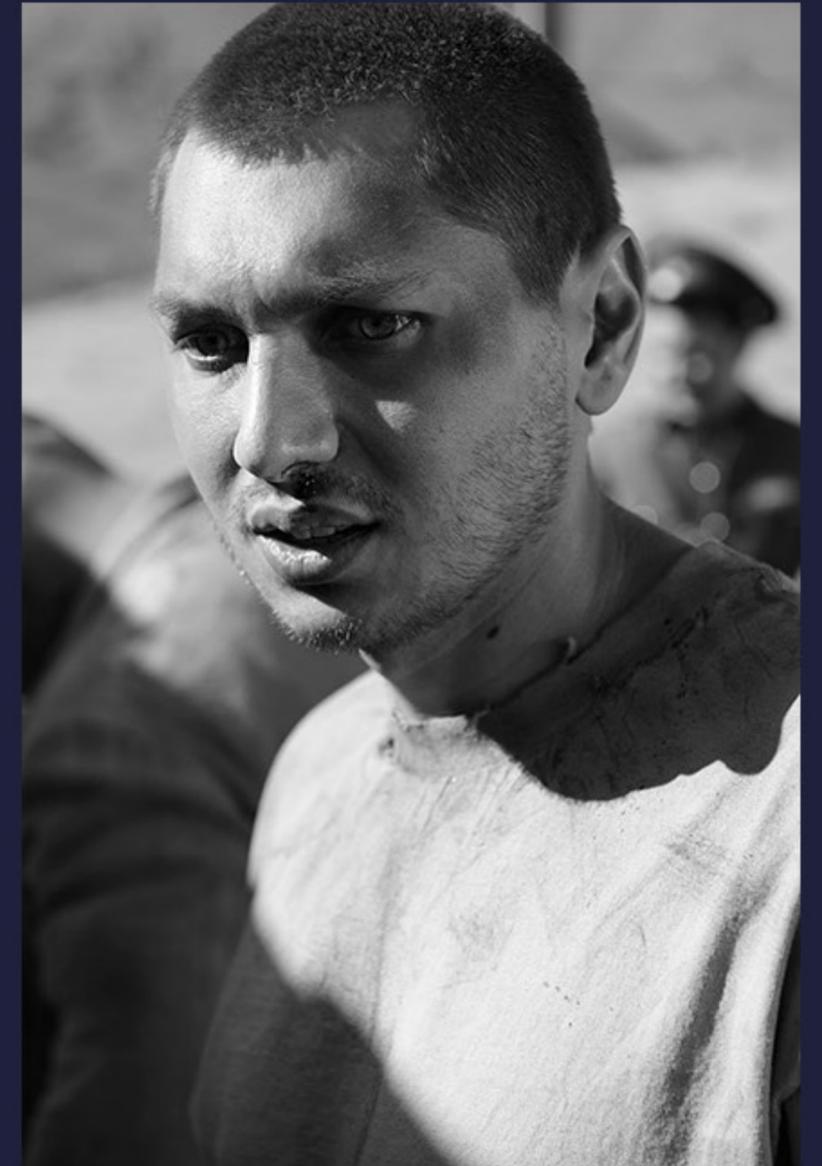

Vladimir (KONSTANTIN LAVYSH) has just begun a long sentence for smuggling electronics into the Soviet Union. Vladimir's only friend is Aleksei (NIKITA BOGOLYUBOV), a political prisoner, and together they work cutting down trees and constructing new buildings for the camp. Aside from having to deal with impossible quotas, an inadequate diet, and a general feeling of hopelessness, Vladimir is relentlessly beaten by fellow inmates who hate him for being Jewish. Both Vladimir and Aleksei are lucky to be friends, however, as they both end up saving each others' lives. To compound an already horrific situation, Vladimir cannot hope to escape, the one belief that gives gulag inmates any hope for the future: his wife, Elena (VERA CHERNY), is also behind bars in the female part of the gulag. With everything stacked against him, Vladimir is reduced to the single option of transforming himself into something he never thought possible, a change that will heighten the chances of survival for him and his wife. He must find a way to join the Vory v Zakonye, or Thieves-in-Law, an elite Russian criminal organization going back to the time of the czars.

Nikita Bogolyubov was born in Leningrad, USSR (now St. Petersburg, Russia). He had his first taste of being an entertainer from ice skating when he was four years old. His family immigrated to the US when Nikita was only eight years old which allowed him to stay fluent in both English and Russian.

Nikita's television debut came from NBC's Prime Suspect where he had a scene opposite of Maria Bello. Wanting to showcase more of his versatility, he also worked in various projects at the American Film Institute (AFI).

For his feature film The Saratov Approach, Larry King exclaimed at the premiere that Nikita "stole the movie" with his performance.

He has since been cast on ABC's Castle, CBS' Scorpion, FX's Legion, HBO's Barry, and NETFLIX's Iron Fist.
